Dear Brother Haynes,
Jack Anderson sent me a couple of Trinity Service Bulletins which I was glad to get. Your church like many others are doing a good job to keep in touch with your men while they are in the army. The men appreciate hearing from home and about their friends. These will help them to fall in line with the church when they get home. I think your bulletin is working along the right line and the dividends in the lives of the men will reward everyone who works to make these monthly letters possible.

I am approaching two years overseas, having pioneered chaplain's work at several Posts and smaller camps. I am at Khurdamabad in Iran, several hundred miles from the ports, in mountains. I have high hopes of seeing my wife and children before Christmas. Best wishes to you and your great work.
Chaplain Hardin.
